In our work at Family Promise, we see evidence of amazing partnerships, incredible generosity and hope-filled families woven together with incredible results!

D'Andre and Ja'lena are a young couple who moved from Muskegon with their baby daughter, Jreem. Growing up in Muskegon was tough for both D'Andre and Ja'lena. Ja'lena lost her mom at a young age and struggled with a support system; D'Andre was looking for new opportunities. At times they were able to stay with friends and family in Grand Rapids, but they were often without a place to sleep at night. Being without a home address made it difficult to apply for a job; and without a job, they were turned down for apartments.

Through their work with Family Promise, Ja'lena - who was 7 months pregnant at the time, D'Andre and their one year old daughter were able to move home!

A few months later, an opportunity to honor a community member and support a family was brought to Family Promise. The employer of the late James Frugé, Eenhoorn, wanted to bless a family the way James had blessed his family and his community. This spring we awarded D'Andre and Ja'lena with the James Frugé housing award. Through this award, this young family will have half of their rent covered for a year.

We are so grateful to the Frugé family and Eenhorn for weaving their stories with Ja'lena and D'Andre's. We are Woven Together!

Family Promise has been here FOR and WITH us since day one. They never gave up on us and everything they said, they lived up to it.

Dear Family Promise Friends,

As we journey through our 25th year of service to kids and families experiencing homelessness in West Michigan, we are overwhelmed and grateful for the many individuals and families, congregations, businesses, and foundations who have impacted the lives of close to 10,000 individuals!

We are Woven Together with each and every one of you - those who have given of your time, your talents, and your resources to our families; those who have walked alongside a grieving mom or a frightened child; those who have prayed.

More than 40 Interfaith Hospitality Network (IHN) congregations are Woven Together with us and our families as they stand in the gap between homelessness and a new home for families. We are humbled to continue braiding together the work the founding IHN congregations began 25 years ago!

We are Woven Together with our incredible community partners who have joined with us to expand opportunities for families, and helped us meet the demand for shelter and affordable housing through very difficult times in this quarter century.

You are Woven Together with us in our commitment to keeping families together in emergency shelter, and in our commitment to helping parents find and maintain a home for their families, one family at a time. Thank You!

Woven Together in Love, With Gratitude,

Volunteer Highlight: A Family Legacy of IHN Investment

For Tess Lundgren, the new IHN coordinator at Trinity Lutheran Church, volunteering is a family affair. As one of the founding congregations of the Interfaith Hospitality Network 25 years ago, Trinity members recognized the crucial need for family shelter in our community, and responded in a big way. For more than 15 of these 25 years, Tess and her family have been volunteering with IHN. When the family took a break from volunteering, her then 8 year old daughter asked why they weren't volunteering.

"Mom! The families need us. They don't have anything. We have to take care of them 'til things get better!" her daughter said. Tess had tears in her eyes as she listened to her daughter, and re-committed to showing up for our Family Promise families. Tess and her daughter, now 16, volunteer with our families each time Trinity hosts the IHN shelter.

A Very Influential Woman: Cheryl Schuch

This March, our CEO Cheryl Schuch was honored by the Grand Rapids Business Journal as one of The 50 Most Influential Women in West Michigan! Cheryl and her fellow honorees were described by GRBJ's Editor Tim Gortsema as critical, vital, and inspirational. We couldn't agree more! As it pertains to Cheryl, we would add bold, faithful, and humble to that list.

Congratulations, Cheryl! We are honored to partner with you in this incredibly important work serving families and children in our community!

New Congregations Embrace Our Families

As we began hosting our IHN shelters in congregational spaces again in fall 2021, we also began engaging with new congregations interested in hosting families in their buildings. We are so excited to be working with Fairway CRC in Jenison, who will host families for the first time this summer.

We will also be hosting families at Wyoming Park United Methodist Church this year. This congregation served as a supporting church to Wesley Park church in the past, and knows well the impact that IHN can have on families in need of emergency shelter.
